The Store That Sets the Pace.

PROBABLY the bad weather of January kept you from visiting this store as often as you would have liked.

To those who have not seen the lots of remnants, the white goods, the embroideries, the silk waists, hats, ribbons, laces and silks, we would say there is much here of these items to choose from and the stock of many of these lines is as good as they were the first week in July.

For the Men.

We offer an assortment of staple and novelty styles of Mens. 100 Hawes Hats, in brown, gray, tan and black colors at $1.89 50 h. Five dozen to choose from. Sizes—6 3/4 to 7 3/4.

The county roads are almost bottomless, it is said, in certain portions of the county. This condition may reduce the usual attendance at court next week.

Attorneys T. C. Bowen, J. Powell Royall, Chapman & Gillespie, A. S. Higginbotham and Geo. W. McCall and W. O. George were present this week at the McDowell County Court.

It will soon be time to look after the season's supply of garden seeds. The advertisements of three fine houses may be found in this paper. Each of them are good, and entirely reliable. Write at once for catalogue.

Mr. G. M. St. Clair has purchased the corner lot of Mr. J. T. Hopkins, at the head of Tazewell avenue, and will build a nice residence this spring and summer.

John S. Thompson, the miller who has had a bad attack of pneumonia was courting a relapse on the street yesterday.

Mrs. Josie Peck spent the week on Clinch with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Peck, recuperating and getting a fine lot of good things to eat.

R. E. Goodman, the wellknown Burke's Garden merchant, was here one day this week, and paid us a pleasant call, as did also Geo. H. Moss, a prominent young member of the Burke's Garden Cattle Company.

J. N. Harman spent part of the week in Richmond, in attendance upon the Anti-Saloon League Convention, and also appeared before the committee of the General Assembly, in the interest of important legislation on the liquor question.

The Commissioners of the Revenue of the county met here Wednesday, and agreed upon a uniform valuation of personal property and real estate in the county. Mr. Chapman H. Peery is the member from Maiden Spring District; T. L. Francis, Jeffersonville District, and H. R. Stowers, Clear Fork.

Virginia Larimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Larimer, is at the home of her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Larimer, in Thompson Valley. The little girl is only one year old, and has had measles, and it is feared that she will not recover.

John W. Neel, formerly deputy clerk under Jos. Cregar, at Abingdon, is here assisting Clerk Graham in getting ready for Circuit Court, which begins here next Monday. Mr. Neel was born in this county, on the place now owned by John C. St. Clair. His father, Rev. H. C. Neel, was pastor of the Methodist church here thirty years ago.

The editor of this paper is something of a gardener as his neighbors can testify. He raises, cans, burys and otherwise puts up enough of every kind of vegetables every season to last until the new crop comes in, besides the pleasure of giving away a great many to his less fortunate neighbors. He serves notice on his friends, and the gardeners of the county, that he expects to carry off the bulk of if not all the prizes offered next fall at the fair for the best vegetables. Take notice, and have no excuse.

Mrs. Pobst is still in Radford, where she was called to the bedside of her uncle, Capt. Peck, whose extreme illness caused great grief and alarm among his friends. It is gratifying to learn that Mr. Peck is better, and his recovery is now confidently expected.

DEATH OF RUFUS HARMAN.

Tip Top, Va., Feb. 1. Mr. Rufus R. Harman, of Bluestone, unmarried, age 53, son of Wm. R. and Virginia Harman, deceased, died of typhoid at the residence of his brother, W. C. Harman, on the 4th inst., after a few days illness, and was buried on the 5th at the cemetery at Edward Scotts. It was with great difficulty that the corpse was conveyed to the grave. Roads had to be cut through fences, and shoveled through snow drifts, and strong men helped to roll the wagon, it being almost impossible to live or move in the raging storm. It required two men to keep the snow shoveled out of the grave until the body was placed in it. This community will miss Rufus Harman, being a mechanic, hardly any one but had employed him about their buildings. He was quiet and peaceable and no one could say ought against him. He leaves three brothers and one sister to mourn their loss. One brother Wm. C. Harman was sick with fever at the time Rufus died in the same house and room. He is improving now slowly, but still confined to bed.

The weather here last week was the worst for several years. It is better now, and the snow is gradually leaving, and some little work is going on.

Owing to the fact that the N. & W. has stopped buying cross ties and several of the coal operations are not buying mine timber, we are having quite a nice little panic of our own, and times are bad, with the prospect of worse to come. Now just suppose we had a small fraction of the nations money which has been thrown away for no benefit in Pacific Islands and put on roads, rivers and public buildings, would it not be a blessing? But we "cant" get it.

B. W. Harman, of Bluefield, is on a visit to his cousin, McTeer Saunders and family. He talks of going to Arkansas. He reports some business and government buildings to be erected in Bluefield this year.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

"NELLIE GREY" DEAD.

When Rev. Mr. Fugate pastor at Farmville, formerly at Tazewell, heard, a few weeks ago, that his faithful friend and companion of years, "Nellie Grey" was dead, if he didn't actually "cry" it can be safely guessed that he almost did, and no wonder. Nellie, his faithful saddle mare, was purchased by Mr. Fred Steele, when Mr. Fugate left Tazewell. She died of something like colic a short time ago. She had been "a member of the family" for some eight or ten years, and had served well. Through many a storm, over many a mountain road she had carried her master on his missions of mercy, in this and other counties, and always with cheerful ness and safety. High-bred, "high-strung" and beautiful of form and gifted of gait, she was a delight to her rider. She lived to a good old age, maintaining her spirit and ambition to the last.

Some there are who believe in a future state for animals—where the fields are ever green and the frame is never withered by age. If so, it may be safely asserted that "Nellie Grey" finds a welcome on the pastures of the blessed.

St. Clair; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Moss; Mrs. Andrew Jack May, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Tiffany St. Clair. Stags—Lacy Hardy, of Bluefield; Don May, Dr. Carai, of Pocahontas; Dr. Samuel Cecil Bowen, Hugh Woodrum O'Keeffe, of Bluefield; Attorney John Henry Smith, of Lebanon, Va.

IN the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of the county of Tazewell, on the 12th day of February, 1908. R. Walter Dickenson, James Dickenson, J. E. Duff, and Alonzo Hardy, partners trading under firm, name and style of Dickenson, Duff & Hardy, Complainants, against Jos. Gloss and Paul Gloss, and H. L. Spratt, Trustee and W. L. Spratt, Defendants.

The object of this suit is to have set aside and declared null and void a certain deed from Jos. Gloss and Rachel Gloss, his wife, to Paul Gloss, dated the 2nd day of November, 1907, and recorded in the Clerk's office of Tazewell county, Virginia, in D. B. No. 62, p. 522, and to have the property thereby conveyed, to wit: All that certain tract, lot or parcel of land, with all buildings situated thereon, in the town of Richlands, Tazewell county, Virginia, known as lot No. 13, section No. 4, plan "A" of the town of Richlands, Tazewell county, Virginia, as shown by a plat with certificate, by the Clinch Valley Coal and Iron Company, dated 6th day of May, 1890, and filed in the Clerk's office of Tazewell county, Virginia, and recorded in said office in D. B. No. 26, p. 1, etc., declared to be the property of the said Jos. Gloss, and to subject same to payment of the claim of complainants, which amounts to the sum of $133.16, with interest thereon from the first day of October, 1907, and for general relief.

And an affidavit having been made and filed that the defendant, Joseph Gloss, is not resident of the State of Virginia, it is ordered that he do appear here within fifteen days after due publication hereof, and do what may be necessary to protect his interest in his suit. And it is further ordered that a copy hereof be published once a week for four weeks in the Clinch Valley News, a newspaper published in the county of Tazewell, and that a copy be posted as prescribed by law.

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE OF MRS. MARY ELIZABETH HAGER.

For the fourth time in the last nine months the death angel has visited the home of W. F. Hager. First taking Willie the oldest son and only a few weeks later two little grand children, and last, the loving wife and mother.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Hager was born on the head of Clinch, April 4, 1861, and on December 25, 1907, that dreaded disease, consumption claimed her as its victim. She was married to W. F. Hager, Sept. 30, 1879. She was the mother of twelve children, five of whom preceded her in death. The writer had known the deceased for a number of years, and can truthfully say she never knew a better woman. Her devotion to her family was a beautiful trait of her character. She was feeble in body, but always ready to respond to the demands of her family, or neighbors within her reach. In early life she professed religion, and joined the M. E. church South in which she lived a constant member until her death. In her long, lingering illness she was never heard to murmur or complain, but waited patiently for the Masters call.

Several months before her death, at one time, she was thought to be dying, she seemed to be in a stupor for several hours, when suddenly she opened her eyes, and looked up at her husband, who was standing over her weeping, and said, "I have been praying that I might be spared a little while longer to my little children. The Good Lord has just told me that I could stay a while longer with you all." She revived and was spared to her family several months.

Just a short while before her death her husband, realizing that the end was near was crying. She noticed him, and said, "You must not do that, I told you last fall that I could stay only a little while with you all, and now my time is about up. I will soon have to go now, and live with the other children."

May the grief stricken husband and motherless children strive to meet their loved one, "Where no storms ever beat on the glittering strand, while the years of eternity roll." A FRIEND. Wiggins Mills, Va. Feb. 12.
